SWOT analysis

Strengths

Ease of working from anywhere, faster reach due to social media platforms, reduced inventory management costs, and a diverse range of offerings, allowing for the display of thousands of items

Weaknesses

Some difficulty in building customer trust as an affiliate marketer, and any changes in the policies of the product platform, such as Taager, impact the affiliate marketer. Lastly, competitors offering discounts for price competition purposes

Opportunities

Increased consumer engagement in online shopping after the COVID-19 pandemic, better use of data to improve advertising campaigns, and collaboration with influencers to raise brand awareness

Threats

Constant shifts in fashion trends, such as fast fashion, which can cause stagnation in many products, along with potential technical issues that may occur on social media platforms used for marketing.

COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

”KHOTWH“

Strengths

They aim to expand widely by providing multiple contact points and promoting their website through Facebook ads. Their communication is engaging, with consistent responses to comments. They offer many promotions and reasonable prices by manufacturing clothes themselves or partnering with factories for bulk orders.

Weaknesses

The response to comments is largely automated and consistent, but customers tend to prefer interacting with real people.

Designs

The logo is simple, and the overall theme of the page maintains brand identity in the post designs while keeping them simple. As a result, their work is easily recognizable even without looking at the brand's logo.

SHEIN EGYPT PAGE

Strengths

They have an impressive variety of products and goods, and the page features many reels, not just relying on images. They consistently upload content and regularly respond to comments. They rely on a source that offers both affordable prices and high quality

Weaknesses

They rely solely on one source, which poses a risk if there are any changes in that source's policies also they pay part of attention to cosmetics .They don't publish enough interactive content, and there are no clear contact numbers available for customers.

Designs

Their designs have a predominantly feminine touch, but even in men's designs, they leave a clear mark. They maintain a strong and consistent brand identity in the overall appearance of the page

POLITICS

The strength or weakness of political relations is a significant factor that greatly impacts digital marketers. For instance, Egyptian-Turkish and Egyptian-Gulf relations, particularly with Saudi Arabia and the UAE, have contributed to the wide availability of their products in the Egyptian market.

ECONOMICS

"Undoubtedly, affiliate marketing has provided Egyptian consumers with a variety of goods at good quality and affordable prices.

However, on the other hand, these prices won't remain stable due to the economic instability and the 'green monster' attacks on the currency

TECHNOLOGY

Technological advancements have streamlined design with tools like Canva and MidJourney, simplified marketing through social media, and enhanced capabilities with AI applications like OpenAI and ChatGPT. Additionally, website and digital store-building platforms enable anyone to easily create their own online store without complex coding.

Consumer behavior and societal conditions are integral to the buying and selling process. For instance, events in Palestine and the boycott of products from the occupying forces mean that platforms displaying such products may lose popularity and profits. The COVID-19 pandemic has also shifted consumer behavior towards online shopping, leading to an increase in sales platforms, enhanced purchasing facilities, and diverse payment methods to accommodate everyone.

Additionally, the rise of home delivery services and increased price competition among platforms attract customers and replace many traditional shopping experiences. Moreover, some restrictions imposed by social media platforms can limit users and ban any advertising accounts that call for boycotting products from the occupying forces
