Pest analysis

POLITICAL ANALYSIS

We source certain products from the USA and Turkey, and any geopolitical or trade disruptions between the countries may affect the availability of these items.

ECONOMIC ANALYSIS

Variations in currency exchange rates could result in price adjustments, potentially affecting the overall cost of our products.

SOCIAL ANALYSIS

There is also the possibility that consumers may become hesitant to purchase imported products if a brand involved in a boycott emerges.

- Diversify our educational content: Post tips on how to choose the perfect shoe or bag for every occasion. Develop content that showcases the benefits of products, such as their durability, quality, and suitability for a variety of tastes.
- Develop social media stories: Publish stories and customer experiences with the products, with short videos showing how bags and shoes are used in daily life.
- Invest in influencer marketing: Collaborate with fashion and style influencers on Instagram and TikTok to increase brand awareness.
- Focus on customer reviews: Encourage customers to leave reviews on social media platforms. Use positive reviews in promotional campaigns to show past customer satisfaction.
- Develop a customer loyalty system: Create a loyalty program for customers that enables them to collect points for purchases and exchange them for discounts or free products. This type of system enhances the return of customers permanently and increases their attachment to the brand.
- Involve customers in product development: Create customer surveys to get their opinions on new designs or suggested colors.
